

Gewurztraminer
Sélection de Grains Nobles
Cuvée Anne 2007
92/100

While most varietal character is gone, this wine does show an explosion of ripe, honeyed sweetness, with a rich, liquorous texture. There is spice, bergamot, dried apricot in a smooth and opulent coating.

Gewurztraminer
Vendanges Tardives
Cuvée Christine 2007
91/100

Rich, sweet, flowery and deliciously blowsy, with spice, ginger, lychees and melons. The wine is a powerhouse of richness, the acidity a sideshow. Ready to drink now.

Pinot Blanc
Les Princes Abbés 2008
87/100

Rounded and soft, with an attractive bite of fruit skin texture and lively fresh acidity. There is a touch of final minerality.

Pinot Gris
Grand Cru Kessler 2006
93/100

Rich and sweet, very soft in texture, a wine that is beautifully ripe and broad. It has a dry core of toast, pepper, with raisins and a final hint of acidity.

Pinot Gris
Grand Cru Kitterlé 2007
92/100

Sweet and rich wine, preserving some exciting acidity. That makes the currant and fig flavors well in balance with a smoky character, touched by toast. A very elegant wine, that also projects concentration.

Riesling
Grand Cru Kessler 2007
94/100

With a few years' aging, this is beginning to its almond and toast side. The fresh acidity is now melding beautifully into a soft, ripe texture with layers of spice and acidity. Certainly worth aging further.

Pinot Gris
Les Princes Abbés 2008
88/100

Soft-textured wine, open to spiced pear and apricots with kiwi fruits acidity. It takes a while before the bite of pepper and the richness come through. There is weight and intensity on the finish.

Riesling
Les Princes Abbés 2008
89/100

Finely perfumed wine, with all the right crisp, steely character of Riesling. It has bright white fruit flavors, intense initial acidity that broadens out into a fine, complex wine. Worth aging 3-4 years.

Riesling
Sélections de grains Nobles
Cuvée Ernest 2007
89/100

Toffee and rich spice give this wine its concentrated flavors. It has intensity rather than weight, soft and smooth with final caramel and light acidity.
